Chapter 1

You may have the greatest bunch of individual stars in the world, but if they don't play together, the club won't be worth a dime.

Babe Ruth (1895-1948)

Chapter 2

Incredibly, some scientifically educated medical school graduates still see evidence as inferior to intuition and experience: those are the ones who give me chills.

Dr Harriet Hall, www.sciencebasedmedicine.org, 29 May 2012

Chapter 3

After feeling discomfort in my hamstring after the first round last night and then again in the semi-final tonight, I was examined by the Chief Doctor of the National Championships and diagnosed with a grade 1 tear.

Usain Bolt, posted on Twitter 6 weeks before the Rio 2016 Olympic Games

Chapter 4

During training, I suffered a stress fracture. It was madness that I carried on and ran the 800 metres and 1500 metres, but because it's the Olympics, you run through the pain. You never know if you'll have another chance at the Olympics, so unless you can't actually walk you carry on, because you don't want to be asking yourself, 'What if?'

Dame Kelly Holmes, MBE, DBE, 800 and 1500 m gold medallist, Athens 2004 Olympic Games

Chapter 5

... then, [Mr Hammerhead Shark] his shirt covered in blood, spun around and hit his knee on the table, at which point he swore and yelled 'My knee! My knee!', the whole time unfussed about the hammer stuck in his neck.
